Ideas and concepts discussed in lectures that were addressed in our design:

- Emphasis of buttons on the top of the page with text that address what they do

- Designing of the navigation menu is listed in a way that is read from left to right, top to bottom, without users getting confused or missing important information.

- The UI elements such as size, colour and positioning are able to direct users to the more important information first without much strain.